

MODERN AWARD GUIDE

derived from the

Black Coal Mining Industry Award 2010 [MA000001]

Effective from 01 January 2014.

Published 09 January 2014

This guide was developed by the Fair Work Ombudsman and is derived from the above modern award which commenced operating on 01 January 2010.

The wage rates in this guide apply from 01 January 2014.

Who should use the guide?

This guide is a helpful tool for all employees and employers who are covered by the above modern award to identify their wages and conditions.

The guide contains information about:

- who the award covers
- wage rates, including rates for casual employees, junior employees, trainees and apprentices if these employees are covered by the modern award
- penalties for working at particular times or under particular arrangements, including what hourly rate
- allowances and other conditions of employment.

What if an agreement applies to covered employees?

All employees covered by the modern award must not be paid less than the minimum wage rates contained in this guide. The terms of an agreement or modern award cannot exclude the terms of the National Employment Standards (the NES).

It is important to note that any other entitlements and conditions in this guide will not apply to employees covered by an agreement-based instrument (detailed below).

Employees and employers should refer to their agreement-based instrument for their employment conditions and entitlements.

Enquiries should be referred to the Fair Work Infoline on 13 13 94.

Coverage

This award applies to:

- employers of coal mining employees, and
- coal mining employees.

Coal mining employees are:

- employees who are employed in the black coal mining industry by an employer engaged in the black coal mining industry, whose duties are directly connected with the day to day operation of a black coal mine and who are employed in a classification or class of work in Schedule A—Production and Engineering Employees or Schedule B—Staff Employees of this award

- employees who are employed in the black coal mining industry, whose duties are carried out at or about a place where black coal is mined and are directly connected with the day to day operation of a black coal mine and who are employed in a classification or class of work in Schedule A—Production and Engineering Employees or Schedule B—Staff Employees of this award.

For the purposes of this award, black coal mining industry has the meaning applied by the courts and industrial tribunals, including the Coal Industry Tribunal. Subject to the foregoing, the black coal mining industry includes:

- the extraction or mining of black coal on a coal mining lease by means of underground or surface mining methods
- the processing of black coal at a coal handling or coal processing plant on or adjacent to a coal mining lease
- the transportation of black coal on a coal mining lease, and
- other work on a coal mining lease directly connected with the extraction, mining and processing of black coal.

The black coal mining industry does not include:

- the mining of brown coal in conjunction with the operation of a power station
- the work of employees employed in head offices or corporate administration offices (but excluding work in town offices associated with the day-to-day operation of a local mine or mines) of employers engaged in the black coal mining industry
- the operation of a coal export terminal

- construction work on or adjacent to a coal mine site
- catering and other domestic services
- haulage of coal off a coal mining lease (unless such haulage is to a wash plant or char plant in the vicinity of the mine), or
- the supply of shotfiring or other explosive services by an employer not otherwise engaged in the black coal mining industry.

NOTE: The coverage clause is intended to reflect the status quo which existed under key pre-modern awards in relation to the kinds of employers and employees to whom those awards applied and the extent to which the awards applied to such employers and employees.

An example of these types of issues and some of the case law to be considered when addressing coverage matters can be found in Australian Collieries Staff Association and Queensland Coal Owners Association - No. 20 of 1980, 22 February 1982 {Print CR2297} and in the Court decisions cited in this decision.

The award does not cover an employee excluded from award coverage by the Act. The award does not cover employees who are covered by a modern enterprise award, or an enterprise instrument (within the meaning of the Fair Work (Transitional Provisions and Consequential Amendments) Act 2009 (Cth)), or employers in relation to those employees.

The award does not cover employees who are covered by a State reference public sector modern award, or a State reference public sector transitional award (within the meaning of the Fair Work (Transitional Provisions and Consequential Amendments) Act 2009 (Cth)), or employers in relation to those employees.

This award covers employers which provide group training services for apprentices and/or trainees engaged in the industry and/or parts of industry set out at clause 4.1 and those apprentices and/or trainees engaged by a group training service hosted by a company to perform work at a location where the activities described herein are being performed. This subclause operates subject to the exclusions from coverage in this award.

Where an employer is covered by more than one award, an employee of that employer is covered by the award classification which is most appropriate to the work performed by the employee and to the environment in which the employee normally performs the work.

NOTE: Where there is no classification for a particular employee in this award it is possible that the employer and that employee are covered by an award with occupational coverage.

Penalty Guide

Method of calculation

For full time and part time employees, the penalty rates set out in this table will be applied to the relevant rate of pay as follows (unless otherwise specified): rate of pay x penalty.

For casual and loaded part time employees, the method of calculation may differ. The reference table below sets out the different calculation methods that may apply and assigns a code to each method.

To determine which method of calculation will apply to a given penalty, the relevant code is displayed in the 'amount' column of the penalty table. For example, if (a) appears in the 'amount' column, the method of calculation that will apply is: (Rate of pay + casual/part time loading) x Penalty. If no code appears, the penalty rate will not apply to casuals or loaded part time employees.

Code	Casual/Part Time Rates Calculation
a	(rate of pay + casual/part time loading) x penalty
b	rate of pay x (casual/part time loading + penalty)
c	penalty
d	rate of pay + casual/part time loading
e	rate of pay x penalty (no casual/part time loading)
f	(rate of pay + penalty) x casual/part time loading

Modern Award Guide - Background

This guide provides information on wages, penalties, loadings, allowances and other conditions of employment, derived from the 01 January 2010 version of the modern award.

Employers that a modern award applies to must provide at least the minimum terms and conditions in that modern award to all employees to whom the modern award applies.

One of the responsibilities of the Fair Work Ombudsman is to ensure compliance with the Fair Work Act 2009.

If an employer is able to demonstrate that they have paid at least the rates published in this guide, including wages, allowances, loadings and penalties, the Fair Work Ombudsman will be satisfied that the employer has met those obligations under the modern award. The employer will need to have paid the wage rate for all hours worked and for the correct classification for the work the employee does.

The Fair Work Act 2009 requires that time and wages records be kept and payslips issued. Employers will also need to demonstrate that this requirement has been complied with.

- notional agreements preserving state awards (made in a state system before 27 March 2006)
