

MODERN AWARD GUIDE

derived from the

Higher Education Industry - Academic Staff - Award 2010 [MA000006]

Effective from 01 July 2013.

Published 20 June 2013

This guide was developed by the Fair Work Ombudsman and is derived from the above modern award which commenced operating on 01 January 2010.

The wage rates in this guide apply from 01 July 2013.

Who should use the guide?

This guide is a helpful tool for all employees and employers who are covered by the above modern award to identify their wages and conditions.

The guide contains information about:

- who the award covers
- wage rates, including rates for casual employees, junior employees, trainees and apprentices if these employees are covered by the modern award
- penalties for working at particular times or under particular arrangements, including what hourly rate
- allowances and other conditions of employment.

What if an agreement applies to covered employees?

All employees covered by the modern award must not be paid less than the minimum wage rates contained in this guide. The terms of an agreement or modern award cannot exclude the terms of the National Employment Standards (the NES).

It is important to note that any other entitlements and conditions in this guide will not apply to employees covered by an agreement-based instrument (detailed below).

Employees and employers should refer to their agreement-based instrument for their employment conditions and entitlements.

Enquiries should be referred to the Fair Work Infoline on 13 13 94.

Coverage

This industry award covers employers throughout Australia in the higher education industry and their academic staff in the classifications listed in this award to the exclusion of any other modern award.

Higher education industry means educational institutions providing undergraduate and postgraduate teaching leading to the conferring of accredited degrees and performing research to support and inform the curriculum.

The award does not cover an employee excluded from award coverage by the Fair Work Act 2009.

The award does not cover employees who are covered by a modern enterprise award, or an enterprise instrument (within the meaning of the Fair Work (Transitional Provisions and Consequential Amendments) Act 2009 (Cth)), or employers in relation to those employees.

The award does not cover employees who are covered by a State reference public sector modern award, or a State reference public sector transitional award (within the meaning of the Fair Work (Transitional Provisions and Consequential Amendments) Act 2009 (Cth)), or employers in relation to those employees.

This award covers any employer which supplies labour on an on-hire basis in the higher education industry in respect of on-hire employees in classifications covered by this award, and those on-hire employees, while engaged in the performance of work for a business in that industry.

Where an employer is covered by more than one award, an employee of that employer is covered by the award classification which is most appropriate to the work performed by the employee and to the environment in which the employee normally performs the work.

NOTE: Where there is no classification for a particular employee in this award it is possible that the employer and that employee are covered by an award with occupational coverage.

14	Terms of engagement (Instrument)	Requirement to state terms of engagement Upon engagement, the employer must provide to the employee an instrument of appointment which states the type of employment and tells the employee of the terms of engagement in relation to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - the classification level and salary, and the hours to be worked, for employees other than casual employees - the term of the employment, the length and terms of any period of probation, and the circumstance(s) explaining why a fixed-term contract has been decided for that employment, for a fixed-term employee - the duties required, the number of hours required, the rate of pay for each class of duty required and a statement that any additional duties required will be paid for, for casual employees - the length and terms of the probation, for any employee subject to probationary employment - other main conditions of employment including the identity of the employer, where the conditions were derived from, and the duties and reporting relationships to apply.
15.1	Termination of employment (Fair Work Act 2009 - National Employment Standard)	Notice of termination by an employer An employer is required to provide notice of termination (or payment in lieu of notice) to an employee based on the employee's period of continuous service as follows: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Not more than 1 year of service: 1 week

Clause	Conditions Type	Description
		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - More than 1 year but not more than 3 years of service: 2 weeks - More than 3 years but not more than 5 years of service: 3 weeks - More than 5 years of service: 4 weeks The period of notice will increase by 1 week if the employee is over 45 years old and has completed at least 2 years of continuous service with the employer.
15.2	Termination of employment - notice of termination by an employee (Instrument)	The notice of termination required to be given by an employee is the same as an employer except there is no requirement to give additional notice based on age. If an employee fails to give the required notice the employer may withhold from any monies due on termination, the difference between the amount of notice required and the amount of notice actually given.
15.3	Termination of employment - job search entitlement (Instrument)	Where an employer has given notice of termination to an employee, an employee must be allowed up to one day's time off without loss of pay for the purpose of seeking other employment. The time off is to be taken at times that are convenient to the employee after consultation with the employer.
16.1	Redundancy (Fair Work Act 2009 - National Employment Standard)	An employer is required to provide redundancy pay at the base rate of pay for ordinary hours based on the employee's period of continuous service with the employer as follows: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - At least 1 year but less than 2 years of service: 4 weeks - At least 2 years but less than 3 years of service: 6 weeks - At least 3 years but less than 4 years of service: 7 weeks - At least 4 years but less than 5 years of service: 8 weeks - At least 5 years but less than 6 years of service: 10 weeks - At least 6 years but less than 7 years of service: 11 weeks - At least 7 years but less than 8 years of service: 13 weeks - At least 8 years but less than 9 years of service: 14 weeks - At least 9 years but less than 10 years of service: 16 weeks - At least 10 years of service: 12 weeks
16.2	Redundancy - transfer to lower paid duties (Instrument)	Where an employee is transferred to lower paid duties by reason of redundancy, the same period of notice must be given as the employee would have been entitled to if the employment had been terminated. Alternatively, the employer may choose to pay the employee the difference between the former ordinary time rate of pay and the new ordinary time rate of pay for the number of weeks of notice still owing.

Clause	Conditions Type	Description
16.3	Redundancy - employee leaving during notice period (Instrument)	An employee given notice of termination in circumstances of redundancy may terminate their employment during the period of notice. The employee is entitled to receive the benefits and payments they would have received under this clause had they remained in employment until the expiry of the notice, but is not entitled to payment instead of notice.
16.4	Redundancy - job search entitlement (Instrument)	An employee given notice of termination in circumstances of redundancy must be allowed up to one day's time off without loss of pay during each week of notice for the purpose of seeking other employment. If the employee has been allowed paid leave for more than one day, the employee must, by request, produce proof of attendance at an interview or they will not be entitled to payment for the time absent. For this purpose a statutory declaration is sufficient.
17	Industry specific redundancy provisions (Instrument)	The award outlines industry specific redundancy provisions that only apply to any institution which: - was bound by the Universities and Post Compulsory Academic Conditions Award 1999 [AP801516] at 12 September 2008 and - has decided to terminate the employment of one or more academic employees for reasons of an economic, technological, structural or similar nature. Further detail on industry specific redundancy provisions is contained in the award.

Modern Award Guide - Background

This guide provides information on wages, penalties, loadings, allowances and other conditions of employment, derived from the 01 January 2010 version of the modern award.

Employers that a modern award applies to must provide at least the minimum terms and conditions in that modern award to all employees to whom the modern award applies.

One of the responsibilities of the Fair Work Ombudsman is to ensure compliance with the Fair Work Act 2009.

If an employer is able to demonstrate that they have paid at least the rates published in this guide, including wages, allowances, loadings and penalties, the Fair Work Ombudsman will be satisfied that the employer has met those obligations under the modern award. The employer will need to have paid the wage rate for all hours worked and for the correct classification for the work the employee does.

The Fair Work Act 2009 requires that time and wages records be kept and payslips issued. Employers will also need to demonstrate that this requirement has been complied with.

Who is not covered by this guide?

Despite the coverage provisions of this guide, conditions in this guide do not apply to an employee or employer while the employee or employer is covered by one of the following agreements:

- Australian Workplace Agreements (AWA)
- Certified agreements (made before 27 March 2006)
- Collective agreements (made between 27 March 2006 and 30 June 2009)
- Enterprise agreements (made after 01 July 2009)
- Individual Transitional Employment Agreements (ITEA)
- Old IR Agreements (made before 1997)
- Preserved Collective State Agreements (made in a state system before 27 March 2006)
- Preserved Individual State agreement (made in a state system before 27 March 2006)
- Section 170MX Awards (made before 27 March 2006)
- Workplace Determinations

The guide will also not apply to employees covered by an enterprise specific award-based transitional instrument, including:

- pre-reform awards (made prior to 27 March 2006)
- notional agreements preserving state awards (made in a state system before 27 March 2006)

Take home pay orders

Modern awards are not intended to reduce an employee's take-home pay. If an employee suffers a reduction in their overall take-home pay as a result of the modern award applying, they can apply for the Fair Work Commission (FWC) to make an order ensuring their pay is not reduced.

IMPORTANT NOTE: Disclaimer

The Fair Work Ombudsman (FWO) is committed to providing useful, reliable information to help you understand your rights and obligations under workplace laws. The Modern Award Guides are provided for that purpose.

There are factors that may affect the information contained in these Guides. These include:

- changes to pay rates, allowances, penalties or modern award provisions; eg after the FWC's annual wage review which takes effect on 1 July each year
- changes to the Fair Work Act or other relevant legislation
- decisions of courts or the Fair Work Commission, in particular regarding the effect of provisions in modern awards and pre-modern awards where those differ from the approach taken by the FWO.

The FWO will consider these matters and where appropriate update the Guides.

It is your responsibility to comply with workplace laws and industrial instruments that apply to you.

The information contained in these Modern Award Guides is:

- general in nature and may not deal with all aspects of the law that are relevant to your specific situation; and
- not legal advice.

Therefore you may wish to seek your own independent professional advice to ensure all the factors relevant to your circumstances are properly considered.
